Contents

1 Problem 2

In general Good-Turing smoothing produces the highest probabilities and MLE produces the lowest, with Laplace usually somehwere in the middle. Additionally MLE will report probabilities $= 0$, whereas the other two will never do that (due to smoothing).